

“Autumntime” Parent Guide by Anthony Lentini 1971

This week in class, we're reading "Autumntime" by Anthony Lentini.

A young person, living in a gleaming technological future, travels with their family to see their first tree.

As we read, we will be discussing the theme of Technology, Progress & Industry as it relates to the text. We are trying to answer these big questions :

"What are the costs and benefits of technology?" and "What should the future look like?"

Ways to support your child:

- Ask your child about this science fiction at home:
 - What was "Autumntime" About
 - What did you learn about?
- Watch the following clips with your child at home:
 - 'The Jetsons Future of Technology'
 - 'Nature is Speaking – Julia Roberts is Mother Earth – Conservational International'
